

THE PRESIDENT GETS A LETTER

Lad Calls Attention to Swimming Pool Project.

EXECUTIVE INTERESTED IN SWIMMING HOLES

Knows of a Couple Near Caledonia—Will Contribute to One for Washington Boys.

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—The boys around Arthur place here for the past week. One of them was that the president of the United States was not particularly concerned about "swimming holes" for boys. When John D. Wackerman, twelve, took his pen in hand and addressed the president. His letter follows:

"Mr. President—We boys have just learned that you are not going to attend the ball given by the ladies of the Community house at the New Willard, April 21. The boys asked me to write the letter asking you to come. Mr. President, we want a swimming pool. Just like you would if you were a boy, no please come. I told the boys I did not believe any president would let the boys go without a swimming pool when he could let us have it by paying fifty or seventy-five cents for a ticket for a ball if you come, everybody will come and we can have our swimming pool, so please come. Yours truly,

"John D. Wackerman."

"P. S.—Please write me a letter and let us know. The fellows are so discouraged to think we can't have a pool."

"John."

Today, John received the following letter:

"My dear John—I received your letter, this morning, saying that the boys were very much disappointed because they had heard I could not attend the ball in the interest of your swimming pool fund. I am exceedingly glad you wrote me about this, John, because I do not want the boys to think I am not interested in their getting a swimming pool. I have used swimming pools, myself, in my time and there are one or two swimming pools in the creek out near Caledonia, Ohio, that I would like to get in right now, if it were possible.

"You tell the boys that I hope the ball will raise all the money that is needed to provide for the pool and that if some of you will come around to the White House to see me, I will buy some tickets whether I attend the ball or not."

"Yours for the swimming pool,"

"Warren G. Harding."

MILLS MAY REOPEN SOON, SAYS REPORT

Further Cut in Price of Steel Is Announced.

New York, April 15.—(Special.)—Competition for the limited current business in the steel market was thought in business circles to have precipitated the success of price cutting announcements by both the United States Steel corporation and several independents. No marked increase in buying was noted, however. With the announcement, expected to be followed by similar ones from other steel makers, came word that some of the idle mills are soon to resume operations, bringing back to work not a few of the unemployed.

The day brought average drops of $3 a ton in the price of steel pipe and declines on sheet steel quotations which varied from $7 to $14 a ton. Selling prices of steel bar plates, structural iron and other products were lowered by many independents as far back as February, and Tuesday the steel corporation followed their lead.

FORCED TO OPEN UP NAVAL OIL RESERVE

Private Corporations Make Inroads on Oil Supply.

Washington, April 15.—(Special.)—Private corporations, by tapping wells and draining the oil from naval reserves, have forced the navy to a decision to open up naval reserve, No. 1, in California, Secretary of the Navy Denby announced today. Bids for leases on the oil property were a naval reserve, will be called for shortly and the leases will be on a royalty basis, the secretary stated.

Private corporations operating wells close to the borders of the naval reserve have drained the oil from the naval reserve lands and made it unprofitable to operate these reserves and therefore, it has been decided to lease them, the secretary announced.

OLD POSTAGE STAMPS SAVE CHINESE BABIES

Miss Catherine Murphy, revenue clerk of Cleveland, who devotes much of her spare time to the seemingly useless task of collecting old, cancelled postage stamps from many of the old envelopes which pass through her hands. The task is not useless. Miss Murphy has sent already more than a hundred thousand of the canceled stamps to far-off China. With them one hundred Chinese babies have been saved from starvation and death. What the Chinese use the old stamps for? They prize them highly, and it is said, they value them next to money. The stamps are used by them for making fancy ornaments, reclaiming the coloring matter used on the stamps, and use them for many other purposes. The stamps are sent to missionaries in China, who, with them, purchase Chinese youngsters who otherwise would die of starvation or disease. These kiddies are then reared and educated in missions, and owe their lives directly to the saving of the stamps over here.

GOMPERS TAKES A WIFE TODAY

Second Matrimonial Venture of Aged Labor Leader.

COUPLE MARRIED IN A NEW YORK HOTEL

Groom Is Seventy-One and Bride Thirty-Eight Years of Age. A Wedding Trio.

New York, April 15.—(Special.)—Gompers married again today. Despite elaborate precautions to keep the second matrimonial venture of the aged labor leader a secret, the fact that he had taken a wife became known in the last minutes of the press interview in the lobby of the Hotel Woodmont today when Judge Robert W. Warren, justice of the peace, performed a ceremony making Mrs. Gertrude Gleason, Neuchâtel, of New York, the wife of the president of the American Federation of Labor. The bride is thirty-eight years old and is a daughter of Thomas J. Gleason, of Danville, Ohio.

Immediately after the wedding, the couple prepared to leave for Toronto, Ontario, on their honeymoon.

Mr. Gompers' first wife, who was Miss Sophia Jullian and who like the labor chief himself, was a native of London, England, died last fall. They had been married fifty-three years, Gompers having married her when she was only sixteen. She bore him six children.

Gompers met his second wife, some years ago, at Trenton, New Jersey, after he had delivered a lecture. They renewed their acquaintance shortly after his first wife's death.

The new Mrs. Gompers was divorced from her husband only last Wednesday, though they had lived separately for some time.

Mrs. Irvin Brown and Miss Elsie Gleason, sisters of the bride, both of Trenton, were among the relatives and intimate friends attending the wedding. The couple secured their marriage license at an early hour this morning.

CLAIMS HAS GOODS ON BIG GAMBLERS

New Disclosures in Baseball Scandal Are Promised.

New York, April 15.—It is announced here that new disclosures in the baseball gambling scandal will result from a secret trip around the circuit just completed by Dan Johnson, president of the American League. As a result of Johnson's findings, the advisory council of baseball, consisting of Johnson, Judge K. M. Landis and John Heydler, president of the National League, will hold a special session tomorrow in Chicago.

Mr. Johnson said: "Ever since it was found that the 1930 world series was crooked and that some of the names of 1929 had a peculiar appearance, the big search has been for the gamblers who contaminated the players. For a long time the real men behind the plot were able to keep themselves covered up. Fortunately, during my trip, I have found the exact information needed to make a perfect case against the big gamblers. With our case ready, we will try to get quick action on the indicted men and will produce testimony which, I am confident, will result in the indictment of the so-called master minds of the men who cleaned up millions on the world series."

CLEVELAND PRESS PEOPLE HELD UP

Armed Robbers Secure Between $400 and $500.

Cleveland, April 15.—(Special.)—Armed robbers, two of whom were seen by the Cleveland Press building at Rockwell avenue and East 12th street, at 4:30 last night, and forced William Gage, circulation manager of the Press and Harry Connelly, a circulation department employee, to put up their hands while the robbers took between $400 and $500 as part of the day's newspaper earnings.

Gage and Gage had just left the circulation department on the press truck, carrying the money in their pockets, and were on the way to the door when the robbers entered from Rockwell avenue and entered the building.

"Put up your hands," the robbers ordered. They forced the two circulation men to put the money on the floor and then lie down.

"We're not going to bother with the silver and pennies. Pick out the paper money," they then ordered.

Connelly and Gage, with revolvers pressed against their backs, were forced to pick out the bills from the top of money poured out on the floor.

The robbers escaped in an automobile which was waiting outside. They were well dressed and seemed to be familiar with the interior of the building. Connelly and Gage said.

Police were notified immediately, and two dozen squadrons took up the case of the robbers.

Shortly after police received the report of the robbery at the Press building, a second report came from police headquarters that two armed robbers held up Edward Hollander, 50, 5100 Vista avenue, southeast, manager of the Miller United Shoe company, No. 6001 St. Clair avenue, and obtained $100 in cash and $15 in checks.

The two fled in a waiting automobile and sped east on St. Clair avenue. Police believe a third man awaited them in the car and thought that the same party of robbers may have been responsible for both hold-ups.

M'GANNON IS OUT UNDER BOND

Appears in Cleveland Municipal Court Today.

WILL ANSWER TO PERJURY CHARGE

Idea of Second Prosecution for Murder Is Scouted by Forest City Prosecutor.

Cleveland, April 15.—William H. McGannon, ex-chief justice of the Cleveland municipal court, is free this afternoon, under bond of $5,000, having walked into Judge Barrow court today and entered a plea of "not guilty" to the indictment charging perjury. The bond was given by W. R. Breen.

"This is the silliest thing I ever heard of," he declared to Judge Barrow before entering his plea, referring to the indictment.

Prosecutor E. C. Stanton and William L. David, special assistant, both scouted the view advanced by Judge Homer C. Powell and supported by Presiding Judge M. A. Foran, that McGannon is found guilty of perjury, could again be tried for the murder of Harold C. Kazy. Few attorneys could be found who agreed with the opinions expressed by the judges.

The grand jury, Monday, will resume its investigations of the evidence in the McGannon and Joyce trials. Special Prosecutor David said today that he expected at least ten additional indictments.

William B. Wilson, Canadian war veteran and witness in the Joyce and McGannon trials, indicated for alleged perjury, is said to be missing and is believed by police that he has gone back to Canada.

Descends into Well and Rescues Her Child.

White Plains, New York, April 15.—"It was nothing more than 'any other mother would have done for her baby,'" was the modest way Mrs. Norman Gurling, twenty-eight, today described her heroic feat in rescuing her fifteen-month-old son from a twenty-foot well. Despite the fact that she is daily expecting to become a mother again, she descended to the bottom of the well by holding to the stones on the sides and with her baby on her back, his tiny arms clinging around her neck, she climbed back to the surface.

"I never thought I was doing anything heroic," she said. "Little Charles had fallen down the well and there was no one but me to get him out and I got him out. That was all. I never thought of the danger until afterward."

TO MAKE DRIVE ON HIGH PRICES

Columbus Women Prepare for a Campaign.

APPEAL TO GRAND JURIES IS COMING

Prosecutors To Be Asked To Investigate Dealers in Food Throughout State.

Columbus, April 15.—"We are going to fight the high prices of food and other necessary commodities until something happens," declared Miss H. Anna Quinby, local attorney and chairman of the Franklin county committee of the Women's Association of Commerce, which has adopted resolutions asking county prosecutors throughout Ohio to bring special grand juries to probe food prices.

Chairman Quinby said the committee, which recently conducted an investigation, found that milk was being sold by farmers at about four cents a quart, while local consumers were paying from fourteen to sixteen cents. She said that although wheat prices declined over 10 percent, since the World War, the deduction has hardly been noticed in bread prices. Retail prices for pork have fallen but slightly, compared with the drop in prices for live pigs she declared.

"I paid twenty-eight cents, today for an egg malted milk. During the war, this same drink cost eighteen cents," Miss Quinby said. "The egg today, is worth two cents, the milk four cents, the malted milk, one cent, the war tax, three cents. The other eighteen cents must be for the 'shaker'."

Next week, Chairman Quinby plans to organize similar women's committees and to solicit support from prosecuting attorneys in Hamilton, Warren, Clermont, Cuyahoga, Madison and Fayette counties.

Other officers are Mrs. T. Bailey, vice president; Elmer V. Dean, secretary; Mrs. Fern West treasurer. The program opened with a vocal solo, "At Home," by Miss Anna Von Endt and was followed with an exercise, "Hilstone Trees," by the sixth grade pupils.

Miss Lulu Bessler played a piano solo, after which Miss Elizabeth Staker gave a reading, "The Bluebird." A song, "Dandelion," by the girls of the third grade, closed the program.

Sixty-Three Years Old.—J. C. Ringer, No. 325 Pearl street, Friday celebrated his ninety-third birthday and in the evening the members of his family gathered at his home and enjoyed a dinner in honor of the event. Mr. Ringer's health is very good for one of his advanced age and he still retains all his faculties.

He has made his home in this county since he was twenty-two years of age, his birthplace having been near Pittsburgh. In his earlier days he was a carpenter but later took up farming. Twenty-one years ago he retired and moved to this city, and has since resided in his present home. The Ringer farm laid just south of the city and is now the site of the Osgood plant.

Program and Debate.—The Harding High School Commercial club met at the High school gymnasium, Friday evening. The program was opened with a piano solo by Miss Marie Fuerstenberger and Virgil Shaw followed with a reading. After a vocal solo by Margaret Johnson an address was given by W. H. Hartsough, of Columbus. A humorous debate, "Resolved, That the Present Reform Movement Should Be Adopted in All States," was given.

The affirmative side was taken by Russell Barklow, John Merchant and Lemoyne Cook and the negative side by Harry Abbott, George Hinklin and Howard Thompson. The judges decided in favor of the negative side. A reading by George Hinklin closed the program.

Greenwood Club Elects.—The following officers were elected at the meeting of the Greenwood Community club held Friday afternoon in the school building: Mrs. C. L. VanArsdel, president; Mrs. E. J. Schenck, secretary; Mrs. W. H. Helstead, treasurer. Chairmen of committees are Mrs. Oscar Lush, social; Mrs. A. C. Bachman, improvement; Mrs. E. M. Hill, membership; means; Mrs. E. C. Ohorn, program. Mrs. J. J. Stahord was elected corresponding secretary. During the program hour Miss Virginia Bachman and Miss Helen Carhart played a piano duet and Mrs. Rodney Hume contributed a reading. Mrs. L. A. Tonnes sang a solo, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Anna Queen. Harry F. Palmer gave an interesting talk on community work. A social hour was enjoyed after the program. The last meeting of the season will be held Friday evening, May 12.

OPENING GAME NOW POSTPONED TILL MAY 1

Can't Complete Grandstand by April 24, Original Date.

The inability to get the grandstand at Lincoln park properly repaired before April 24 has made it necessary for the local Playground association to postpone the opening of the baseball season until May 1. Workmen started on the repair work of the stand, Friday, but as it is to have a new floor and some other repairs and the joists are to have concrete bases, the work can not be completed in time to allow the concrete to set before two weeks.

This information will be received with regret by the local fans as the Ontario, Canada, team, winner of the pennant in the Michigan-Ontario league, last season, were scheduled to open the season here April 24 and as a result it has been necessary to cancel this game. It is expected that by May 1, all improvements including bleachers and a fence around the park, will be completed and the grounds placed in good shape. The Victoria team, one of the better independent teams in Northern Ohio is booked to play here May 1. The postponement of the opening will give the local team a little more

FOSTER'S WEATHER

Washington, April 16.—Not far from a cold wave will come from the Alaskan Northern Rockies and will soon thereafter cover Montana, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and northeastern British Columbia. This will be an important and dangerous cold wave, carrying frosts further south than usual. The cold waves of March that did so much damage and of which my weather chart gave accurate and long forecasts were double, the two coming about nine days apart. The next danger coming with the last one during the week centering March 21. The April cold waves will be very much like those of March, the first one of the April frosts of war during the week centering on April 15 near meridian 90, a little earlier farther west and a little later east of meridian 90.

On account of the season being later these April frosts will not go so far south as did those of March. The average time of the last killing chance to round into town. Player Manager Foster will take his players to the park as often as possible to work out, and he expects the team to be stronger and better this season than last. The management has booked some fast teams from the larger places and it will be the aim to give the fans a high class brand of ball.

MARION VOLLEY-BALL PLAYERS TIE LIMA

Will Now Appear in State Tournament in Columbus.

Marion tied with Lima's first team in the Northwestern volley ball elimination games played Friday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. building at Lima.

Both teams will go to Columbus next Saturday to play off the finals in the state volley-ball tournament. The Lima players won three straight games from Foster's, while in the second game Marion won three straight games from the Lima players.

In the Lima-Marion game the local five lost three games out of five, but tied the Lima team in points which puts them in the race for the state tournament. The three games won by Lima entitled it to the cup in Friday's games.

Lindsay and Hume showed fast net work and were highly complimented by the visiting teams.

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID THE MEN and their a specimen of the meeker sex could be seen, but the women outnumbered the men in the same proportion at least as they do in church. The rounded sentences and prepared arguments of ex-Senator Beveridge brought round after round of applause and when he sat down, the cheering continued many minutes.

So much was this evident that when the New Yorker, famed from coast to coast for his incisive, sarcastic wit, arose, he said:

"I believe you like Beveridge better than you do me."

Hodges opposed the primary, because of its expense, because of the failure of the people to take part and because, he declared, it lent itself to the manipulation of those with selfish interests to serve.

"Some see the political boss as a horrible monster; he isn't that, he is a barometer."

When the debate ended, Mrs. Call, who was presiding, advised the women to weigh the arguments, to home and make up their minds for themselves.

HE PLEADS FOR A WIDER HORIZON FOR REALTORS

O. E. Hawk, Youngstown, Addresses Local Board.

WHEN FIRST ANNUAL DINNER IS ENJOYED

Head of Ohio Association of Real Estate Dealers Declares
Builders Have Lacked Vim.

A plea for real estate men and builders to broaden out, look beyond the mere earning of a living in their business, get the proper vision of real service and become city builders was voiced at the annual dinner of the Marion Real Estate board Friday evening in the private dining room of the Busy Bee cafeteria by O. E. Hawk, Youngstown, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Dealers.

"Real estate men are broadening out, but we are very narrow and haven't the proper vision," Mr. Hawk said. "Our vision is no broader than merely regarding our business as a means of a livelihood. We have never seen it from the big idea, some of us, and have forgotten the service end of it."

Light in the City.
"I have lost my respect for the subdivider who goes out into the woods to develop a piece of real estate years in advance of its use. That isn't fair. There is a lot of property in the city to be developed and it is the duty of the subdivider to study the situation, see where development is needed and then he becomes really a city builder."

"Builders have lacked vision. They have been building too many houses to sell and not to live in and it makes a lot of difference on the character of the people who occupy them. The average real estate man has not felt his responsibility to society. When we build a house first to live in and next to sell, we are really building. How many brokers sell a burden to a person instead of an obligation and there is a great deal of difference between a burden and an obligation."

Most Sacred Material Things.
"There is no department of our business that hasn't a great responsibility. We are dealing with the most sacred material things, land and homes, and I do not know of any profession that is crying so much for leaders as real estate and it is practically the biggest business in the world. License laws are being passed in a number of states for the regulation of real estate men, just as laws regulate the banking business. In Ohio the rank and file of the men in the business is for that sort of a license law and we are going to have it here before many years."

Mr. Hawk declared that the real estate business has been considered a business that anybody who failed at anything else could enter and added that was true for a while because of the people in the business.

The Other Fellow.
"You do not make your own reputation," Mr. Hawk said. "Your reputation as a real estate man is made for you by the other fellow in the business." He asserted a wide-awake real estate board is one of the greatest assets a town can have, that they are pioneers among the men who take risks and counteract gloom and pessimism. He congratulated the Marion organization, but urged the members to meet once a week at a noon luncheon instead of once a month. He also said that in time the board should be the association to all the appraisal work, because real estate men are the logical ones for that work. He urged for uniformity of commissions and interest not only in the local board, but in the state organization and national organization.

Meanest Problem Is Taxation.
Taxation Mr. Hawk termed the meanest question in America today. He told of the work of the citizens' committee appointed by Governor Harry L. Davis and of the recommendation of that body for the repeal of the uniform rule to open the way for classification. Mr. Hawk also decried the law exempting industrial stocks from taxation and asserted it has taken thousands of dollars out of Marion.

"I do not believe it is right for the state to help the business of one class by injuring the business of another class of its citizens," Mr. Hawk said. "That is what the law exempting stocks does. It was a good thing when it was passed, but we have pursued that policy too long and have developed the industrial side of life and neglected the home side. Home owning has declined in Ohio because you can not get money for homes as easily as you can for commercial purposes."

It's Not All Imported.
"America makes her own I. W. W. and creates her own unrest. We do not import it all. I advocate that the home owner should have the lowest rate of interest. Building has fallen off entirely too much. Today is the opportune time to build. Your price can not possibly stay as low as they are. The buying power who put off buying until prices come down is worse than the selling power in a time like this."

"Labor should take a cut if it is going to help business, but I wonder if the reduction in labor will be as great as some think and I wonder if it should be as great. We do not have the right feeling toward the man who must labor with his hands. If we did there wouldn't be so much trouble. It is our fault. And any of you, in employing a man ask him if he could afford to work for the wage you were offering him. We drive the hardest bargain we can.

Up to Business Men.
"There are more heroes among the men who toil with their hands, rear and educate a family and buy a little home than there are among business men. Business men could rid the country of unrest in a year or two by a square deal."

Ora Winters, Youngstown, former resident of Marion, played the cello and the pianist, read an interview he gave to a newspaper in Cincinnati last January on business conditions and paid an eloquent tribute to President Harding.

Wilbur F. Neff, Columbus, a former Marionite and now secretary of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Dealers, declared he considers Marion the best town of its size in Ohio. He said the state association expects the assistance of the Marion board in organizing boards in other cities asked the board to send a 100 per cent delegation to the state convention in Springfield and suggested a banquet on the anniversary of the organization of the board next January.

The recommendations of the citizens' committee on the tax question were endorsed by the board and a committee composed of George B. Knapp, J. E. Phillips, W. J. Gorton, J. W. Jacoby and O. G. Briggs was appointed to convey the report to this action to the state representative, senator and the governor. President W. T. Jones was authorized to name an extension committee and announced the appointments will be announced later. It was announced that the next meeting of the board will be held Monday noon, May 2, at the Busy Bee.

GLOOMY GUS HAS HIS WEATHER INNING TODAY

All Weather-Making Planets Are in a Conspiracy.

Somewhat as though an electro-dynamo had been touched in motion, or a shocking machine had been set in operation, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, moon, earth, sun and every other planet or celestial body that has anything to do with making the weather must have run into close and powerful electro-magnetic relations. That is, such must be the case, judging from the hastiness of today's weather.

There were no soft-winged zephyrs. The honest sunshine that April once boasted about was kidnapped by the gloom man in the guise of the weather man and locked up somewhere.

It was Gloomy Gus' day! Last Sunday was anything but spring-like. Tomorrow is going to be something like it, accepting the weather man's prediction as being accurate. It heats everything!

THE BEDSPRING LUXURIOUS

DeLuxe is the most luxuriously comfortable bedspring made. It will give you a lifetime of satisfactory service and more soothing delightful beathful repose than you have ever known

Luxurious comfort in the bedspring DeLuxe is a result of special features in the construction, among which are the extra long highly empered conical coils tied together diagonally at the top with elastic helical coils. These helical coils are securely attached to the large coils by Patented S-Hook Fasteners which insure the integrity of the entire fabric and distinguish DeLuxe from all many inferior imitations. Each coil is thus given freedom of action and the bedspring is made flexible, so that it follows the contour of the figure and supports the whole body buoyantly in a natural and therefore healthful position. It does not sag like a hammock or pitch to the side of heavier weight when occupied by two persons. Tranquilized and made drowsy with a sense of physical comfort, you drift off into sound and refreshing sleep.

DeLuxe is handwoven in Rome Gray Enamel and will fit metal or wood beds (and four-foot wood beds) without any change.

miners or deuces wild and they made me play in the deuces wild because they see me win once at miners and they kept the jars turned on and if a person wasn't interested in their hand they could get up and dance and the only hand I got all evening was 4 deuces and a ace and it came when I and my brother was the only ones not dancing.

Well, the Mrs. Suely come up and said it was time to go home and I knew without counting my chip that I was $15 poorer as she is a stickler for the conventions one of which is that when your husband is $15 poorer it's time to go home. So everybody says many happy returns and we started home and we was all most there when a fire blowed out and the Mrs. says here is a chance to use your new dash light so I get out and pointed it at the fire, but it looked even better than without no dash light.

That is how I spent my birthday and I won't have no more of them for pretty near a yr. But I suppose its like making a hole in 2 or being a honorary pall bearer and if it happened often a person wouldn't enjoy it as much.

NOTICE!
Have Your Lawnmower SHARPENED

By the Latest Up-to-Date Machinery
I LEAD AND OTHERS COPY
Make Mowing a Pleasure
Instead of a Drudge.

Notice to people that live in the country: Take off the handle of mower and bring the mower to me. I will sharpen it while you are in town.

This is the machine that does it. ALL REPAIRS DONE AT COST PRICE.

It is a well known fact that owing to the peculiar shape of the blades it is next to impossible to sharpen a lawn mower with a file, and many first-class mowers have been ruined in the attempt.

Your mower, ground with this machine, will be sharp and stay sharp longer than the old style way which is usually done by inexperienced workmen with an emery wheel, file or emery dust, etc.

While the emery dust method is a cheap one it is not desirable. The clearance of the cutting blade is reduced, making more surface in contact with the lower bar. As the edges become dull, the mower has to be adjusted very closely, so that it TEARS the grass instead of SHEARING it, at the same time making it run harder than ever.

The next time your mower needs sharpening, Phone 8160 or 8111 and I will call for same and deliver it to you promptly, making it cut so nicely that it will surprise you.

Your money back if not satisfactory.

Good Thing Birthdays Don't Come Oftener

To the editor—Letters has been read from hundreds of readers asking how did I celebrate my birthday and why wasn't they something about it in the society col. Well friends so many folks has been getting their name in the society page that didn't belong there that the papers has made up their mind to draw the line somewhere so they past a rule to not print nobody's name that is still living with their first wife.

But on acct. of the nation wide interest in the subject and to repay in a measure the kindness of my family and friends maybe it would not be out of place for me to put fish a report of the occasion which will long be remembered as one of the biggest fests in the annals of N. Y. society.

But first let me take this occasion to publicly thank my family and friends for remembering me and what they done towards giving me a grand good time as well as the many valuable gifts which I am afraid they could ill afford though perhaps they are better off than a person would think to look at them.

Well in the first place they was a celebration at the home and it was Sunday and I got up late and come down to breakfast and they was a chair covered with presents from my kiddies who couldn't hardly wait for me to open up so as they could see what they was. Well they was a can of tobacco and a box of stationery prevents the ball from traveling very far." Which I suppose the theory is O. K. but I can get the same results without no parachute.

Mr. Rice gave me a split midiron and a golf bag that you can put clubs of any length in it because they's no bottom, and he also gave me a dozen golf balls that I washed them up the next day with soap and water and 2 of them turned pretty near white.

Miss hostess gave me a kind of a patent lighter that you fill it with kerosene and use it to start a fire in the first place instead of kindling wood. Most of these here patents is no good and I am using this one set, but if it don't work it certainly won't be from lack of experience.

Another of the fair ladies gave me a electric flax light to use when they was tire trouble at night or something. And a artist name Preston give me a original drawing that was worth real money which he waited till later in the evening before he took it with a couple of full houses.

Other gifts was a cigarette holder pretty near like new and a copy of the golf rules for 1916 which is just as good as any as far as I'm concerned, and all and all when I seen what my friends had spent on me I couldn't hardly help from yawning and felt like I shouldn't ought to take all these gifts a specially the ones from ladies that wasn't my wife, and I got to feeling so miserable over it that I throwed some of them out the dinner window on the way home.

I Had No Choice.

But the costly gifts was just a drop in the bucket along side the 5 course birthday supper which we eat off our laps on acct. of the host and hostess never dreaming when they bought their dining rm. furniture that they would ever live anywhere bigger than Nashville.

The piece of most resistance was a Virginia ham that friends had sent them and the hostess said she had showed it to her butcher and he said it was worth $22, but he was stocked up with ham so we had it and it made 4 courses and the 5th course was individual birthday cakes which I eat one of them but the other guests just tasted theirs and said they would save the rest till their birthday.

After supper there was a choice of High Spot of the Celebration.

But the big party come off at night in N. Y. city. This was give in my honor at some friends of mine and when we entered the apt. all the merry makers was there and the lounge was a litter of presents and the first one I opened was a tie from my boss which didn't have no card to tell who it was from, but I seen him wear it too many times too not know.

G. Rice and R. Goldberg presented me with some handsome golf accoutery and one of the ones Mike gave me was what they call a parachute golf ball which is a regular golf ball with a parachute tied to it and the directions says to "let parachute driving and all other stren in a hatted area. The parachute

Why Are So Many FRANKLINS Being Sold Today? There's a Reason. Think It Over.

The FRANKLIN

Less Expense--Less Trouble Better Service

Franklin economy is enough, in itself to justify your choosing a Franklin these days. New conditions have given a new significance to the familiar Franklin figures below.

Yet economy was never the only aim—nor the only good result—of the Franklin. The principles behind it were adopted, and continued, for the superior service they gave in other ways, too.

Light weight makes the Franklin easier and safer to handle as well as more economical of gasoline; flexibility makes it more comfortable as well as easier on tires; direct air cooling frees it from the annoyance as well as from the expense of radiator troubles.

20 miles to the gallon of gasoline
12,500 miles to the set of tires
50% slower yearly depreciation

Trouble Solver For Automobile

(If you have any troubles or wish any information about your automobile write to: Frederick C. Guerrli, M. E., Stamford, Connecticut.)

Q. The electric starter on my car, if you make the repair yourself seems to be sluggish at late. I tested the storage battery and it tests to 1,250 to 1,260, so I took the cover off of the commutator and brush end of the motor and I found something that looks like brass filings and the commutator seemed rough. This starter is made by the—

A. I believe it would be best for you to send the motor to the factory and have the commutator turned down, as the roughness will cause a sparking and this sparking will result in the further roughening of commutator.

If you are an extra fine mechanic and do not want to send the motor away, you might try filing off the high spots and burrs, and if you find some of the mica separators protruding you can with a very thin sharp chisel and light tape cut the mica so that it will be very slightly below the bronze segments. Do not attempt to file away all of the scratches, but only the burrs on the sides of them or you will destroy the roundness of the commutator and so do more harm than good.

The cause of the "brass filings" is either that some grit got under your brushes, or that the commutator segments are so worn that one or more of the mica separators protrude and as the brushes hit these protrusions they are made to sort of bounce and in doing so a spark is generated which burns away some of the bronze of the commutator.

It is this burned-away bronze which you find. A loose or poorly set brush will also cause this.

HUDSON SUPER-SIX

Compare Hudson's Price With Cars to Which You Compare Its Quality

Have you considered Hudson's real price advantage?

Remember that the cars with which you habitually rate the Super-Six in quality and performance are much costlier than it.

Yet where will you find any desired quality that Hudson does not possess in equal measure?

By official proofs as well as in the constancy of more than 100,000 owners Hudson has won its position as the other car holds.

Q. I have been using a medium grade of oil since 1911. I have up to now with good results, but recently I have noticed that I have any amount of oil in the crankcase. I do not think that a new oil would stop this smoking. Is the smoking due to wear? T. R. J.

A. I am inclined to believe that the smoking is due to the fact that the oil is working on past the piston rings.

CARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY'S GASOLINE.

[BY HOWARD E. CARIS.]

[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

Uncle Wiggily and the Fox and the Bear were in the woods and made faces. They did this because they were so surprised, standing motionless at the spots, that they could not even speak up and grab them both if you want to."

"Uncle Wiggily will be enough if he brings it home in his auto. He is going to take Nurse Jane to the movie."

"Listen!" went on the Alligator. "Uncle Wiggily has just bought a new dress. I saw him bring it home in his auto. He is going to take Nurse Jane to the movie."

"What for?" asked the Fox. "Because the new dress was so creased and wrinkled from being packed in the box in which Uncle Wiggily brought it from the nine and ten cent store," the gator answered. "Nurse Jane hung the dress out on the line to get the wrinkles out."

But how is that going to help us catch that rabbit?" growled the bear.

"This way," went on the Skillery. "I'll sneak up there and with my floppy tail I'll dip a lot of mud and dirt on Nurse Jane's new dress as it hangs out on the line. I'll spot that dress all over with mud!"

"What for?" asked the Fox. "Because the new dress was so creased and wrinkled from being packed in the box in which Uncle Wiggily brought it from the nine and ten cent store," the gator answered. "Nurse Jane hung the dress out on the line to get the wrinkles out."

The gator spattered a lot of dirt on Nurse Jane's new dress.

has the best ears for n-bbling. The ears of Nurse Jane are too small!"

"Well, shall I flip mud on the dress?" asked the gator.

"Yes, go ahead do it!" rumbled the Bear.

"We'll give you a few ear nibbles if we catch Uncle Wiggily."

While the Fox, Wolf and Bear hid in the bushes near the hollow stump bungalow of Mr. Longnose, the Skillery Squirrel Alligator sneaked up toward where Nurse Jane's new dress was hanging on the line. Not far away was a mud puddle.

Dipping the end of his floppy floppy tail in the mud the gator spattered a lot of dirt on Nurse Jane's new nine and ten cent store dress as it hung on the line to air out the wrinkles.

"Now, all we have to do is wait," whispered the Alligator as he crawled behind the bush with the Fox, the Bear and the Wolf. "Pretty soon Nurse Jane will come out, see her dress all spotted, and she'll call Uncle Wiggily. He'll come out, too, to look at it. Then you three can sneak up behind and grab him."

Well, the Fox, Wolf and Bear thought this was a good trick to play on the bunny gentleman but I call it rather mean, don't you? Anyhow, pretty soon Nurse Jane came out to get her new dress to get ready to go to the movies. And as soon as she saw the spots of mud she raised her paws and cried:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Come here! Come here! See what has happened to my dress!"

"What's the matter?" asked the bunny gentleman from the sand behind his hollow stump bungalow, where he was putting gasoline in his auto.

"Oh, my nice new dress is all covered with spots!" cried Nurse Jane. "Come here and look at it!"

"Get ready now," hissed the Alligator. "He's coming."

"Oh, my dress! My lovely dress!" sighed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I can never wear it to the movies looking as it does! Come here, Uncle Wiggily, and see what has happened!"

"He's coming now!" gurgled the gator.

But the bunny gentleman, instead of coming, called to Nurse Jane. "Bring your soiled dress here to my garage. I have a lot of gasoline I'm putting in my auto. Gasoline will clean spots on dresses. I'll soon clean yours for you."

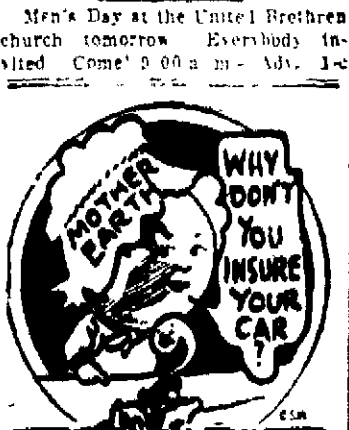

"Oh, joy!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. Quickly she took the dress down from the line and hurried with it into the garage. There Uncle Wiggily spread the dress out on one of the seats and with a rag dipped in gasoline, cleaned off every spot.

"There you are!" cried the bunny, as the last spot disappeared. "Run

Some FACTS About

Here are authentic figures from the Ford factory at Detroit. They show you just how many Ford cars and trucks have been built each month since January 1, 1921, and how many have been sold to retail customers, in the United States.

	Produced	Retail Customers Delivered to
JANUARY	29,583	27,298
FEBRUARY	33,505	31,503
MARCH	61,556	57,321

Total Production 124,644 Total Retail Sales 208,032

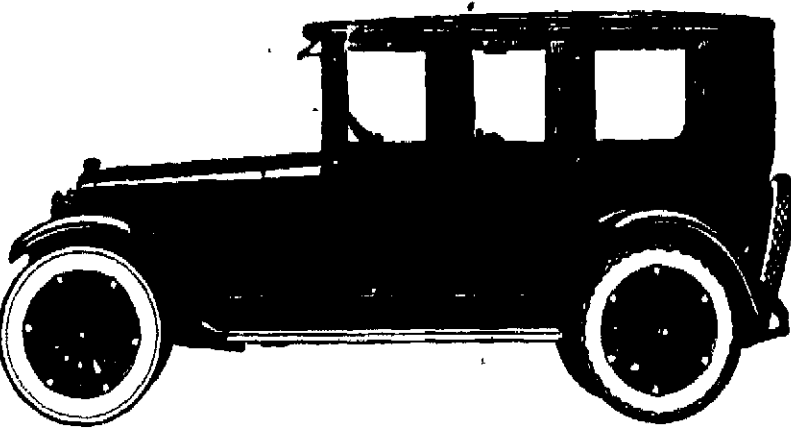

showing that actual sales for the first three months of 1921 exceeded production by 80,338 Ford cars and trucks!

April requisitions already specify 107,710 additional cars and trucks and the estimated April output of the factory and assembly plants combined calls for only 90,000.

These facts clearly show that the demand for Ford products is growing much faster than manufacturing facilities to produce and were it not for the dealers' limited stocks, which are now being rapidly depleted, many more customers would have been compelled to wait for their cars. It will be only a matter of weeks, therefore, until a big surplus of orders will prevent anything like prompt deliveries.

If you would be sure of having your Ford car or truck when you want it, you should place your order now. Don't delay. Phone us or drop us a card.

Hints for the Motorist

By Albert L. Clough Editor Motor Service. Review of Reviews

Low Temperature Lubrication Requirements

Solid Grease Cannot Spread Over Bearing Surfaces

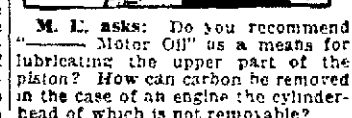

THE TRANSMISSIONS AND REAR-AXLES of cars that are kept in cold garages and left much out of doors in winter, are in danger of damage unless the lubricant used in their housings remains soft enough to flow slightly at the low temperatures experienced. Although there may be plenty of "dope" in the housings it is of no use if it is chilled into a solid condition, for then it cannot flow, cover the surfaces and work into the bearings. Thickened lubricant is often pushed away from the gears, that are supposed to splash it and is found adhering to the housing walls, where it does no good. The danger of damage is not to the gears themselves, for if they were dry, their noise usually calls attention to their condition before they are much injured, but to the delicate ball or roller bearings of the axle, transmission and the rear-end. This applies both to the transmission and the rear-end. In the unit powerplant construction the transmission is somewhat warmed by heat from the engine and is safer from solidified lubricant is thus less than in the case of a conventional arrangement as a separate unit, but still this risk is not absent. The rear-axle housing receives practically no engine heat, it is exposed to the full danger arising from "frozen" lubricant. It frequently happens that, during hot weather, in order to prevent excessive leakage of lubricant, both transmission and rear-axle housings are supplied with grease lubricant or even "packed" with grease. Occasionally, even those that were designed for oil lubrication are so packed, though the grease is very sticky. Such instances as the above may have no serious consequences during hot weather, when the lubricant is in its least solid condition, but very harmful results are likely to follow if such lubricants are kept in service in cold weather, when they stiffen into an entirely effective condition. Universal joints may also suffer, as to their lubrication as having their housings filled with grease that hardens unduly in severe cold and it is practically impossible to operate the grease up to a chilled car effectively, unless a very light grease is used in them as has been used in them previous to the oncoming of cold weather.

Oil Smoke Comes Through Floor Boards

G. M. H. writes: I am having trouble with my car from blue smoke at escapes through the breather and comes up through the front floorboards. My plugs are always clean, of economy in excellent and there is no smoke in the exhaust. I've changed oil frequently, used the best quality, and have tried running up in the crank-case. What do you advise?

Piston Oiling and Carbon Removal

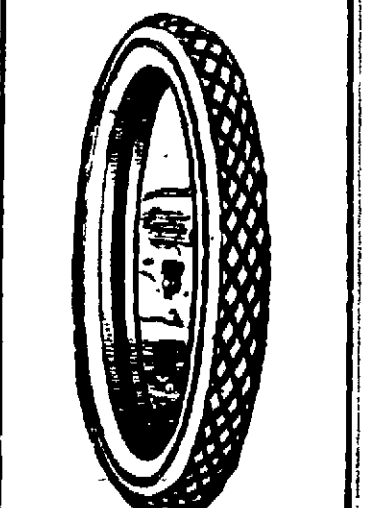

M. E. asks: Do you recommend "Motor Oil" as a means for lubricating the upper part of the piston? How can carbon be removed in the case of an engine the cylinder-head of which is not removable?

Answer: This is an oil of a small proportion of which is mixed with the gasoline in the tank. Its use or the use of an equivalent quantity of any high test cylinder oil is advantageous in cases of faulty piston lubrication, as it is carried in with the fuel, in the form of a fine mist assisting upon and helping to lubricate all parts exposed to it. The burning oil process, by means of oxygen gas, gives good results on such engines, but it should not be used if the engine manufacturer advises against it and should be applied only by a competent operator. Carbon can be removed from the piston heads of some engines by hand scrapers, introduced through the valve openings.

TELEGRAMS

THE Saturday Evening Post, under date of April 10, 1921, carries a double-page advertisement showing Telegrams from Buick dealers in every section of the United States, concerning deliveries of hundreds and hundreds of 1921 Buicks.

The text of the advertisement is of interest to automobile users.

"These telegrams tell a significant story. They prove in a most certain manner the demand for Buick cars."

"And they also prove another fact that is particularly gratifying—the abiding confidence with which the public regards Buick. This confidence is reflected in the placing of these Buick orders now, at a time when motor car values are being scrutinized as never before and when final sales are commensurate upon the basis of greater relative values and actually demonstrated worth."

"In many cases, too, this active buying is stimulated by a realization of the periodical shortage of Buick cars and the desire to insure spring delivery by placing orders now."

"That these wires for Buicks come from every section of the country is a definite indication of a nation-wide return to normal business conditions."

"Creo-Dipt" shingles on side walls cost less than most other building materials especially when you consider the saving in painting and repairing. "Creo-Dipt" shingles on roofs do not curl, split or pull out because the wood is preserved and does not rot around nail holes.

Disclosures Touching Loans to Foreign Governments Call for Action by Congress.

Washington, April 15.—Members of the senate judiciary committee, which has been examining the records of foreign loans, declare there has been "wanton disregard of the law in lending billions of dollars to foreign governments."

"Circumstances surrounding the loans to Great Britain, Russia and Greece, as shown by correspondence between Wilson administration officials and those governments were particularly irregular and warrant action on the part of congress," one member of the committee said.

A meeting of the judiciary committee of the senate has been called for Monday to consider the additional information on the subject of foreign loans that has been found in the treasury department records. It is probable that a subcommittee, of which Senator Reed of Missouri will be a member, will be appointed to recommend what action the full committee should take.

Conditions surrounding the loans have been discovered to have been "so grave," the committee members said, that they have agreed not to make any of them public until after the judiciary committee has acted.

"The public has not been told half about the foreign loans," said one member of the judiciary committee. "That is particularly true of the loans to Great Britain, Russia and Greece. Our examination of the records sent to the committee by Mr. Houston, including the correspondence between the United States government officials and the governments of Great Britain, Russia and Greece, have disclosed that billions were loaned over to those countries and to their countries, before and after the armistice, without any regard of the law."

The committee has completed its examination of the records.
